

MACLEANS.CA

Dreams Discovery Network

PIRATE SHIPWRECK: A joint Canadian-German team of filmmakers and undersea explorers working off Haiti said a shipwreck first sighted two years ago is the Merchant Jamaica, which belonged to legendary Welsh-born buccaneer Captain Henry Morgan. The team is working with the Haitian government to create a tourist attraction around the 30-cannon oak ship, which may have aided the 17th-century privateer in his exploits.